PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

With many pools now closed for the winter months, and the interruptions caused by Covid slowly allowing us to move more freely, I can assure all members of the Queensland Branch of the Society, that our pace of program delivery has been awesome. We are now back in full gear, and the pandemic that affected us all, is becoming past history. Incidentally, I was not exempt, and suffered a double-dose of the virus

During the past six (6) months many pools have been audited by Safe Work Queensland, who are now referring to the Safety In Recreational Water Activities Act 2011. If any members are unaware of this Act then I would advise that you download a copy from the Queensland Government website, and make yourself aware of the contents of the Act, and the penalties associated with non-conformance.

My recent drive holiday through the length and breadth of Queensland raised my awareness to the lack of compliance to the GSPO, of hotels, motels, caravan and camping grounds, body corporates and AirBNB accommodation houses. The risks that the properties face for nonconformance could be extremely costly should an accident occur. Just a few inexpensive signs would provide many facilities with the cover that they most urgently need.

Les Mole
State President

MESSAGE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

We are heading towards the end of the financial year and it is poignant to reflect. Queensland, Australia and the world is taking the brave step and reopening from two years of restrictions, with many of us venturing on overseas holiday's and plane flights being one of the few bastions of mask mandates. A new (changed) federal government has just been formed and over the last two years most organisations have re-structured to be ready for change.

Royal Life Saving is no different, over the last two years we have been looking at our products and services and have made some major changes. We have included to our suite new high quality courses, to fill the gaps in the market, and we are on the verge of releasing more new exciting courses.

For our stakeholders that are trainers, the months of March, April and May have been slow, which is no doubt a reflection on the anniversary of the lockdown's from June 2020. We expect July and August to be, if not more busier than what was experienced in 2021.

The aquatic industry workforce has faced its share of difficulties. We have been faced with staff shortages, including mental health and fatigue of a tired workforce has had its impact, due to sickness and many staff requiring isolation due to family illness.

With this, comes the expectation of change and new ways of undertaking activities.

Regards, Paul Barry | Executive Director

SCHOOL PROGRAMS

AIRLIE BEACH LIFEGUARD PROGRAM

The Junior Lifeguard School holiday program is an initiative started by Royal Life Saving Society Queensland (RLSSQ) along with Queensland Emergency Services. The overall aim of the program is to help establish a lifesaving club within the community of Airlie Beach.

The program was run slightly different over the April school holidays, running over the 11th, 12th & 13th of April from 9.30am-2.00pm each day.

Over the course of the two programs, we held an array of activities including: Beach board rescues, Tube rescues, learning beach flags, water rescues, safe entries, wading, dolphin dives, floating skills, how to use life jackets and more!

Overall, the April program was a huge success with 25 participants taking part each day!

We would like to thank Queensland Fire and Emergency Services and our sponsor Dominos for allowing RLSSQ to reach the community of Airlie Beach and teach the younger generation of lifesavers.

Next steps for the program are in active planning for the next school holidays, alongside organising more community involvement, and a focus on obtaining volunteers for our Beach patrol, Junior Lifeguard Program and Life Saving Sport.

PROJECTS UPDATE

Royal Life Saving is pleased to report updates on the following swimming and water safety projects with schools and other members of our community:

Water STAARS

Royal Life Saving Queensland's Water STAARS (Support To Access Aquatic Recreational Spaces) Program finished up at the end of April on the beautiful shores of Bulcock Beach, Caloundra.

This program is a youth with a disability program, targeted towards individuals between 5-21 years of age with a disability to access the beach.

In partnership with Steps Pathways College, our 2022 program focused on water and personal safety around the beach.

This initial partnership has aimed to drive disability participation, and allow many individuals (who have not previously had the opportunity) the chance to access these aquatic spaces in a safe, supportive and educational manner.

After the session came to a close, we were visited by Jason Hunt MP who attended the certificate ceremony for the participants and volunteers. This was followed by a morning tea, organized and funded by MP Jason Hunt's office.

We would like to thank Jason Hunt MP for coming down and presenting the awards, as well as supplying the delicious Morning Tea.

"It is through partnerships like this and support from the Sunshine Coast Council, Ithaca Life Saving Club and Queensland Fire and Emergency Services that we can continue to develop these disability programs and increase opportunities for youth with a disability to be part of this exciting program"
- Beverly Newton, RLSSQ Projects Officer.

Moving forward, our future programs will not only focus on the coastal aquatic environments, but will also focus on inland waterways such as rivers, lakes and dams and the considerations for each environment.

The success of our pilot program would not have been possible without the support from Steps Pathways College and their volunteers, and the Sunshine Coast Council's grants program. Royal Life Saving Society Queensland will now continue to plan for the next Water STAARS program for summer 2023.

If there are any organisations that would love to get involved in our Summer 2023 program please contact us at projects@rlssq.com.au

PROJECTS UPDATE

2022 Brisbane Careers and Employment Expo

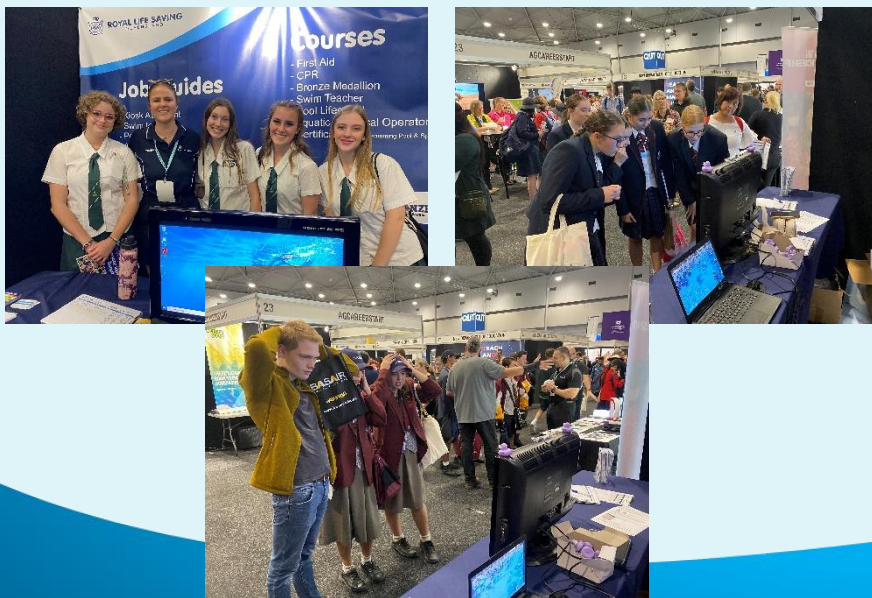

On May 20 and 21, Royal Life Saving Queensland attended the Brisbane Careers and Employment Expo at the Brisbane Convention and Exhibition Centre.

Over the two day period, RLSSQ staff were joined by over 120 organisations and employers with career opportunities for all ages.

We were approached by many industry organisations, school students and job seekers, in which we provided an array of materials outlining our courses and career progression opportunities, as well as explaining options for individuals that worked with their goals in the future.

As the peak body for drowning prevention, we played a little game with all willing participants (via a video), to spot a drowning casualty before the lifeguard jumps in to rescue them by placing their hands on their head. If they did it correctly they won a duck.

We look forward to attending the next expo, and providing further information on our courses and training and career pathway opportunities for those interested in working in the Aquatic Industry!

Swim and Survive 40th Birthday

Last week, our Swim and Survive program turned 40!

To celebrate, we held a birthday party at The Plantation Swim School & Aquatic Centre with cupcakes, games, colouring in and of course, photos!

For 40 years, over 15 million children have participated in the Swim and Survive program, providing them with the skills and knowledge to be safer when in, on and around water.

This amazing program has contributed to the reduction of drowning statistics particularly for primary school children aged 5 to 14 years as well as provided the skills and knowledge required for a lifetime of active and safe aquatic recreation.

QUEENSLAND PARLIAMENT E-PETITION

Australian Resuscitation Club member Jamie Martin successfully launched a Queensland Parliament E-petition requesting the House to prioritise the consideration and implementation of a system of mandatory accreditation and annual training in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) for all residential properties.

This includes any residential property where there is a pool, including new builds, existing dwellings and rental properties where there is an existing pool, or pool to be installed.

Whilst pool fence regulations are there to save children from outside the pool, the requirement for formal mandatory accreditation in CPR training will enhance the ability to ensure the safety of children once inside the pool.

As an organisation dedicated to drowning prevention, Royal Life Saving Queensland urged all Queenslanders to consider signing this e-petition.

The petition has now closed and gained 544 signatures. We will post an update via our social media channels once the result is announced.

RESOURCES

CITY OF GOLD COAST AQUATIC FACILITIES RECEIVE POOL SAFETY AWARDS

City of Gold Coast Aquatic Facilities have been awarded Royal Life Saving's Bronze and Silver Pool Safety awards.

In doing so, the City of Gold Coast facilities have become the first Queensland aquatic facilities to be recognised as achieving a high level of safety within their aquatic facility operations.

The facilities endorsed under the program are Pimpama Sports Hub, Gold Coast Aquatic Centre, Upper Coomera Aquatic Centre, Helensvale Aquatic Centre, Miami Aquatic Centre and Nerang Aquatic Centre.

Endorsements are only awarded to facilities that provide high levels of safety management at an aquatic facility. To achieve the award the City of Gold Coast facilities had to go through a rigorous series of assessments to ensure it met all of Royal Life Saving's criteria for the accreditation.

"The award is similar to accrediting a lifesaver, and therefore facilities must undergo a thorough assessment of their skills and performance and attain a high standard throughout.

"We are very selective when endorsing aquatic facilities and swim schools. Royal Life Saving must be satisfied that exemplary levels of aquatic safety are being achieved and constantly maintained before the award is issued." - Paul Barry, Director Royal Life Saving Queensland.
